Sometimes all you have to do is go for it. Take a breath and jump.
Because here's the thing, you can spend forever standing at the foot of the diving board, and you will always find a reason not to go in. It's too high; it might hurt; you might swallow water. And all of those things are true, but you know what else is true? You'll waste a perfectly good life standing on the edge.
When really the most beautiful thing you could do is go for it.
Take the jump.

Take the jump.
